

“Tim Otteman’s presentation “BRACKET BUSTED” really gave our student-athletes an in-depth look at the numerous pitfalls associated with sports gambling. Tim incorporated a wide range of real-life examples into his presentation including personal interviews with student bookmakers and organized crime members that helped compliment gambling case studies and statistics. I especially appreciated Tim’s focus on the exchange of confidential team information between student-athletes and family members, friends, professors, boosters, etc. and how the exchange of this information has serious consequences for the student-athlete. Tim spoke with a great deal of passion and energy and he connected with the audience extremely well. I highly recommend Tim’s presentation for any institution looking to be proactive in its educational efforts on sports gambling. Excellent presentation!”
